Infrastructure 2012: Spotlight on Leadership is the sixth in a series of annual reports exploring infrastructure investment and trends around the world. The series examines the subject from both a national and global perspective, and provides key insights on the future of infrastructure planning and funding.

Highlights of Infrastructure 2012 include:

- A special section exploring the growing use of ballot initiatives for roads, transit, open space, and water in the United States.
- Case studies illustrating how new technology, regional cooperation, and state efforts are moving infrastructure projects forward.
- Predictions on how the rise of user payments, the retreat of federal money, and increasing tolls and fees will affect infrastructure spending and revenues over the next two years.
- Broad analysis of emerging approaches to infrastructure funding and financing at the federal, state, regional, and local levels, such as tax increment financing, transit-oriented development, Build America Bonds, and public/private partnerships.
- Creative approaches to leveraging existing infrastructure and capitalizing on historic assets.
- A comprehensive overview of the current state of infrastructure in the United States, Canada, China, India, Brazil, the Middle East, and Europe.
- Timely examinations of current infrastructure projects, such as U.S. high-speed rail, the Panama Canal expansion, and aging bridges and tunnels.
- Recommendations on how state and local governments can make infrastructure projects happen despite constrained fiscal environments.

Produced by the Urban Land Institute and Ernst & Young, Infrastructure 2012 pinpoints the cutting-edge trends, policies, and issues surrounding infrastructure in 2012 and beyond. Based on interviews with infrastructure experts, up-to-date research and analysis, and other resources, the report presents findings on current infrastructure projects and priorities and is full of essential information for any infrastructure professional.
